</tbody>

1. Background/Context for required services/results:

UN Women (UNW), grounded in the vision of equality enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations, works for the elimination of discrimination against women and girls; the empowerment of women; and the achievement of equality between women and men as partners and beneficiaries of development, human rights, humanitarian action and peace and security. Placing women’s rights at the center of all its efforts, the UN Women leads and coordinates United Nations system efforts to ensure that commitments on gender equality are translated into action throughout the world. It provides strong and coherent leadership in support of Member States’ priorities and efforts while building effective partnerships with civil society and other relevant actors.

Violence against women and girls (VAW/G) is one of the most systemic and endemic human rights’ issues which disproportionately affects women and girls worldwide. Violence against women takes many different forms, manifested in a continuum of multiple, interrelated and sometimes recurrent forms. It can include physical, sexual and psychological/emotional violence and economic abuse and exploitation, experienced in a range of settings, from private to public, and in today’s globalized world, transcends national boundaries. Such violence is a form of discrimination against women which impairs or nullifies the enjoyment by women of human rights and fundamental freedoms. It is also an obstacle to national development and poverty reduction goals. Its health, social and economic impacts extend to children, communities, and society as whole.

The Government of the United Republic of Tanzania demonstrated its commitment to prevent and respond to VAWG through the development of appropriate legal and policy frameworks. In December, 2016, the Government adopted a National Plan of Action to End Violence against Women and Children (NPA on VAWC 2017/18 – 2021/22) that integrated strategic actions both in relation to the prevention and response to violence against women and children.

Under its mandate to support Member States to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) gender-related targets in general and in particular SDG 5 target of Eliminating all forms of violence against all women and girls in the public and private spheres, including trafficking and sexual and other types of exploitation; UN Women Tanzania Country Office is pleased to announce a Call for Proposals CFP/EVAWG 2019/01 on Engaging Local Agents of Change to Prevent Violence Against Women 2019 for women-led Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) and Non-Government Organizations (NGOs) with innovative and high impact programmes on the advancement of gender equality, protection of women’s rights. These initiatives will contribute to the implementation of the National Plan of Action (NPA) on Ending Violence Against Women and Children in line with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in the selected regions of Mara, Tabora, Kagera, Geita, Singida and Unguja/Pemba. These regions report VAW percentiles that are higher than the national average as per National Demography and Health Survey 2015/16.

2. Programme Focus

Through this Call for Proposals, UN Women seeks proposals from women-led NGOs and NGOs with strong track record in advancing Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women and in efforts regarding the prevention of violence against women and girls. NGOs will have proven capacity to develop and implement interventions with the overall objective of transforming the environment and social norms that perpetuate and contribute to violence against women and girls or put women and girls at risk of violence in public spaces, such as markets, streets, schools. Such initiatives should prioritize the implementation of National Communication Strategy to End Violence against Women and Girls and community level initiatives that focus on engagement with religious, traditional and local leaders and women and men groups in the selected regions.

The objectives of the program are: 1) Favorable social norms, attitudes and behaviors are promoted at community and individual levels to prevent VAW 2) Attitudes and behavior related to women’s and girls’ rights to enjoy public spaces free from SVAWG improved. 3) Women’s voice and agency strengthened to advocate for the reform and implementation of laws and policies on EVAW. Through this program, women, men, girls, boys and other influential champions such as community leaders are engaged in transformative activities in their communities to promote respectful gender relationships, gender equality, and safety in public spaces.

3. Proposed intervention(s) and expected results

The Program envisages any of the three key components to be implemented by either a single organisation or jointly in partnership with other NGO/CSO in which case they will have to show proof of the partnership at the time of submitting the proposal. The implementation period and budget are for a 1-year period and interested CSOs/NGOs are expected to submit technical and budget proposals covering this period.
With the overall outcome of a society that respects gender equality and protection of women and girls against all forms of violence, each proposal should address only one of the following components in at least in the selected three geographical locations (Mara, Kagera, Tabora, Geita, Singida, and Unguja Kusini/Pemba):

Component 1: Enhance capacity of women and girls, men and boys to recognize, prevent and respond VAWG in public spaces as violation of women’s rights.

Component 2: Develop transformative initiatives in relation to non-formal education and media messaging with a view to raising awareness about positive gender norms that protect women and girls from violence in public spaces.

Component 3: Enhance capacity-building for local leaders to advocate for the elimination of VAWG including ending child marriage and other forms of harmful practices.

4. Timeframe: Start date and end date for completion of required services/results

A term of one-year starting date being July 2019 and completion of services/results June 2020 with possibility of extension.

5. Competencies

The Call for Proposals encourages innovative, multi-sectoral level initiatives aimed at achieving behavioral change and transformation of social norms, attitudes and practices that fuel social acceptance of VAWG both among women and men. Such initiatives should target a large percentage of the population in the targeted communities, including men and boys as changing agents, community leaders, women and girls.

The Call for Proposals encourages NGOs that have proven capacity to develop and implement a programme using new and existing VAW prevention packages and models to change social norms that condone VAW/G. The submitted projects should contribute to the thematic areas of NPA on VAWC specifically on promoting positive social norms and in particular, gender norms and values; and minimizing risks of violence against women and children in public spaces through strengthening institutional accountability to prevent violence against women and children in market places.

Template for proposal submission

<tr>
<th>Mandatory requirements/pre-qualification criteria</th>
</tr>
</thead>

Proponents are requested to complete form Annex B2-1 and return it as part of their submission. Proponents must meet all mandatory requirements/pre-qualification criteria as set out in Annex B. Proponents will receive a pass/fail rating on this section. To be considered, proponents must meet all the mandatory criteria described in Annex B. UN WOMEN reserves the right to verify any information contained in proponent’s response or to request additional information after the proposal is received. Incomplete or inadequate responses, lack of response or misrepresentation in responding to any questions will result in disqualification.

Component 1: Organizational Background and Capacity to implement activities to achieve planned results (max 1.5 pages)

This section should provide an overview with relevant annexes that clearly demonstrate that the proposing organization has the capacity and commitment to implement successfully the proposed activities and produce results. Key elements to be covered in this section include:

1. Nature of the proposing organization – Is it a community-based organization, national or sub-national NGO, research or training institution, etc.?
2. Overall mission, purpose, and core programmes/services of the organization
3. Target population groups (women, indigenous peoples, youth, etc.)
4. Organizational approach (philosophy) - how does the organization deliver its projects, e.g., gender-sensitive, rights-based, etc.
5. Length of existence and relevant experience
6. Overview of organizational capacity relevant to the proposed engagement with UN Women (e.g., technical, governance and management, and financial and administrative management)
Component 2: Expected Results and Indicators (max 1.5 pages)

This section should articulate the proponent’s understanding of the UN Women Terms of Reference (TOR). It should contain a clear and specific statement of what the proposal will accomplish in relation to the UN Women TOR. This should include:

- The problem statement or challenges to be addressed given the context described in the TOR.
- The specific results expected (e.g., outputs) through engagement of the proponent. The expected results are the measurable changes which will have occurred by the end of the planned intervention. If not provided in the TOR, the expected results should have corresponding indicators, baselines and targets. Propose specific and measurable indicators which will form the basis for monitoring and evaluation. These indicators will be refined, and will form an important part of the agreement between the proposing organization and UN WOMEN.

Component 3: Description of the Technical Approach and Activities (max 2.5 pages)

This section should describe the technical approach and should be able to show the soundness and adequacy of the proposed approach, what will actually be done to produce the expected results in terms of activities. There should be a clear and direct linkage between the activities and the results at least at the output level. Specific strategies should also be described to support the achievement of results, such as building partnerships, etc.

Activity descriptions should be as specific as necessary, identifying what will be done, who will do it, when it will be done (beginning, duration, completion), and where it will be done. In describing the activities, an indication should be made regarding the organizations and individuals involved in or benefiting from the activity.

This narrative is to be complemented by a tabular presentation that will serve as Implementation Plan, as described in Component 4.

Component 4: Implementation Plan (max 1.5 pages)

This section is presented in tabular form and can be attached as an Annex. It should indicate the sequence of all major activities and timeframe (duration). Provide as much detail as necessary. The Implementation Plan should show a logical flow of activities. Please include in the Implementation Plan all required milestone reports and monitoring reviews.

Monitoring and Evaluation Plan (max. 1 page)

This section should contain an explanation of the plan for monitoring and evaluating the activities, both during its implementation (formative) and at completion (summative). Key elements to be included are:

- How the performance of the activities will be tracked in terms of achievement of the steps and milestones set forth in the Implementation Plan
- How any mid-course correction and adjustment of the design and plans will be facilitated on the basis of feedback received
- How the participation of community members in the monitoring and evaluation processes will be achieved

Component 5: Risks to Successful Implementation (1 page)

Identify and list any major risk factors that could result in the activities not producing the expected results. These should include both internal factors (for example, the technology involved fails to work as projected) and external factors (for example, significant currency fluctuations resulting into changes in the economics of the activity). Describe how such risks are to be mitigated.

Include in this section also the key assumptions on which the activity plan is based on. In this case, the assumptions are mostly related to external factors (for example, government environmental policy remaining stable) which are anticipated in planning, and on which the feasibility of the activities depend

Component 6: Results-Based Budget (max. 1.5 pages)

The development and management of a realistic budget is an important part of developing and implementing successful activities. Careful attention to issues of financial management and integrity will enhance the effectiveness and impact. The following important principles should be kept in mind in preparing a project budget:

- Include only costs which directly relate to efficiently carrying out the activities and producing the results which are set forth in the proposal. Other associated costs should be funded from other sources.
- The budget should be realistic. Find out what planned activities will actually cost, and do not assume that you will be able to make do for less.
- The budget should include all costs associated with managing and administering the activity. Particularly include the cost of monitoring and evaluation.
• Indirect costs, or administrative overhead costs, such as staff salaries and office rent are not funded. These therefore should not be part of the funding request.
• The budget line items are general categories intended to assist in thinking through where money will be spent. If a planned expenditure does not appear to fit in any of the standard line item categories, list the item under other costs, and state what the money is to be used for.
• The figures contained in the Budget Sheet should agree with those on the proposal header and text.
