Ms. Susan Monahan
Vice President, Media Relations, Citi

A financial PR professional, Susan has worked in the financial services industry for nearly 10 years. Currently, she works for the institutional client group (ICG) at Citigroup and looks after PR and media relations for Citi research, EMEA. This includes providing media strategy to internal clients in equity strategy, fixed income, FX strategy, economics and political strategy; while also liaising with top-tier journalists at financial publications throughout the world.

Prior to this Susan was global communications manager at analytics and intelligence firm, Coalition, which provides benchmarking and competitor rankings to leading investment banks. Previously, Susan spent time in Monaco and New York in various PR and research positions.

In 2004, Susan graduated in Politics from the University of Sheffield, UK.
